Kenneth J. Klawans is a Professional Loss Consultant licensed in California and North Carolina, with a focus on large loss adjustments of single-family residential properties, apartment complexes, churches, condominium associations, hotels, office and retail properties.

Mr. Klawans graduated from Syracuse University, Whitman School of Business in 1989. A native of Baltimore, Maryland, Mr. Klawans moved to San Diego in 2010 with his wife, Emily, and their two grown children to enjoy everything California has to offer.

Prior to joining Skipton Claims Management, Mr. Klawans spent 30 years in the financial services and private equity industries. In addition, he currently serves as a director of the La Costa Oaks Homeowners Association.

Mr. Klawans is diligent, thorough, and decisively effective in all matters of damage assessment, claim preparation and loss negotiation. He is known to put the client's needs at the forefront and be attentive, detailed, and always available to help make the client whole again after a loss.

Mr. Klawans understands the value of hard work and possesses an acute awareness of the needs of a policyholder in order to successfully maximize their claim settlement. He is currently a member with the San Diego chapter of the Risk and Insurance Management Society (RIMS) and the National Association of Public Insurance Adjusters.
