Industry	Financial Services
Specialty	Wealth and Retirement Planning using Hybrid Wealth Investment Strategies, with primary focus on protection, security and growth.

John Labunski is well known in the retirement and wealth markets by many through his innovations in radio marketing to assist listeners avoid losses as many had in 2000, 2001, 2002 and again in 2008, and by his clients who have enjoyed that peace of mind and protection from market disasters. Known in the industry as the 1st on air, beginning in 2005 on KLIF 770am in Dallas, TX educating listeners on the values of protecting assets as they get closer to retirement, over the old school buy, hold and pray scenario that cost so many so much again in 2008!

John entered the Financial Services market after a solid middle class Midwest childhood, a strong work ethic that began early at the age of 14, and solid math based education including a degree in Mechanical Engineering. Those tools set course for a career that began in Milwaukee, WI heading design team for P&H Harnischfeger, a worldwide crane manufacturer, and growing to become President of a major Environmental Engineering and Construction firm based in Dallas, TX.

John Labunski is also a self-professed "repented loser"! Explaining that following a LBO with Cambridge Capital and Goldman Sacs in 2000, he had a choice...continue in the Corporate World or find a new beginning. After choosing to spend more time with family and less in boring meetings all over the World..he left and became a newbie investor. Quickly introduced to the #1 Advisor with one of the big brokerage houses "the Advisor on their TV commercials!" he felt safe. Unfortunately like many, the losses began quickly and his advisor offered a lot of encouraging words, but all were aimed at keeping monies invested for profits, not protecting assets for retirement!

With this wake up call, John went to assist his widowed Mother with her accounts. Same result, same excuses from her advisor who was also with one of the large well known down on the corner brokerage firms.

She had lost 40%, retired, widowed in her 50's, by an advisor who very well knew her, the family and her needs!

As Believers know..those lessons were for a reason. That reason continues today.

John Labunski currently heads his holding company Lincoln Wealth Strategies LLC as Founder/CEO, as well as Lincoln Wealth Advisors as Senior Managing Partner, and hosts a weekly radio shows titled Senior Managing Partner, and hosts a weekly radio shows titled Retirement Wealth Talk Radio and Wealth 911.

In 2012 Lincoln Wealth partnered with Fund Architects LLC to fulfill a plan to be capable of providing full financial, wealth and retirement services to all listeners and potential clients focusing on the clients goals and needs...not the companies! Fund Architects is a full service money management firm who share similar beliefs that preventing loss is a key to success as the return from losses like 2008 for most any baby boomer or senior is nearly impossible, and almost always avoid able. Their active, dynamic and global investment strategies have proven successful for their clients, and are now made more available to conservative minded listeners to the shows.

Records show that neither John Labunski, nor his entities have ever had a Complaint Filed, Judgment, or action or complaint on any License or by any licensing entity.

A Cease and Desist Order was filed by the Alabama Securities Commission that listed John Labunski. This action did not involve Mr. Labunski as he had no activities in the State of Alabama although properly licensed, no gain from any sale of life settlements or other product in Alabama, and was merely acting as an employee for another entity. No wrong doing is stated, only a change in State securities laws that affected the sale of life settlements in the State of Alabama sold by Life Partners Inc.
